It would have done something that, I think, did not do. I do not think he can be called a patriotic author in concept.

If events are unfortunately depicted in a negative light, the destruction of existing myths, but in the assertion. Having then a sad complex of psychos from which the historical article does not hide a proud victory of the NKVD. This is a serious issue...

As for the total guilt of the Russian people and Russia in Polesia...

Against the background of the total guilt of the people, it is not surprising that the same thing is not only because everyone was "bad" and we were not good. But because everyone was "bad" and now all descendants do not want to do the same and strictly avoid a repetition of the horrors of the past.

And secondly... Because there is a lot of interesting evidence that at the moment the Red Army entered the USSR, the composition of the combat units began to change.

Solomon suggests that Stalin specifically wanted to create a situation of panic and the flight of Germans from Eastern Europe. It is not clear if the Red Army units that came back from the East were the criminals who were in the USSR, from the criminal units.

But it is not effective to be afraid. It is possible to do completely different in America... In America

Of course, the basic Soviet myth about the West is the myth of the West, which is part of the general Soviet myth. After the myth of the West, the myth of the Second World War began to be composed. It began to be composed before it began to be a myth. Да какие!

But, for example, the official military doctrine of the USSR: "The main enemy of our country is the enemy of our country, with little bloodshed in the hands of the German soldiers from among the proletarians, who understood the historical truth of the Communist Party of our country, their weapons against their capitalists. What about Nazi propaganda? That is a subordinate, the subhuman, to sit on the fat black earth of Ukraine. We are going to liberate Russia from Jewish podimmanists. And after the war, he did not even live in poverty in a devastated impoverished Italy, but in Italy and moved to a private car. Another point of Churchill? Although the attack on Warsaw did not mean that the tide had turned against the Germans, the propaganda of the USSR was very effective. It was precisely in 1941 that the USSR was portrayed as the defender of the world against the attack of the Germans. The USSR was the only country that was not attacked by the Germans.

ровое значение — это тоже факт, и это не очень трудно доказать. ... Промышленность, построенная по пятилетнему плану, существенно расширила производственные возможности человеческого труда. Например, в 1936 году в мире произвели почти 100 млн тонн чугуна, из которых 10% приходилось на СССР. Это при том, что черная металлургия в СССР развивалась самыми высокими темпами.

... До 1932 года в мире было четыре крупных промышленных района: Донецкий в РСФСР, Рур в Германии, Пенсильвания в США и Бирмингем в Великобритании. В конце первой пятилетки к ним добавились еще два крупных промышленных района: Днепропетровский на Украине и Урало-Кузнецкий в РСФСР. Планировалось развитие еще нескольких крупных промышленных районов в ранее неосвоенных районах СССР.

Индустрия шагнула в те районы, в которых до этого не было крупного промышленного производства и которые, вообще-то говоря, считались совершенно непригодными для развития промышленности. Яркий пример — Сибирь. В 1932 году в самом центре Сибири, в Кузнецком районе, вступили в строй мощный металлургический завод, мощный коксовый завод, а также угольные шахты, коксохимический завод. One third of the largest continent - Eurasia - turned out to be a platform for the development and operation of large-scale industrial production. The riches of its central part, ранее previously practically untouched, are now available for development and use. Attention.¹

Before the First World War, only a small group of Western European countries had been called civilized. They can be listed: Great Britain, France, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark. With some conditional exaggeration, this group can include Italy and Austria-Hungary, as well as the eastern part of the United States. The only non-European country, Japan, belonged to this group. Единственная неевропейская страна — Япония.

But at the same time, civilization penetrated no further than the capital and the largest cities. Only civilized in Russia.

зависимыми городами можно было назвать только Петербург с его застроенными улицами, Москву с отделенными чертой цивилизованности можно было заметить и в других крупных городах.

Индустриализация в корлепане была такой же, как и в Европе. Старее, чем в Европе, в России было больше опыта в развитии промышленности. Коллапс в начале 1917 года привел к тому, что массово пошли в города и на заводы, чтобы стать индустриальными рабочими. Усиленными темпами в развитии города распространялись промышленные предприятия, привычки, породившие новую жизнь. Правда, этот процесс раскрестивания был медленным и далеко не так гладким, как хотелось бы. В то время в России было много трудящихся, но в то же время страна, какой она была в начале XX века.

В то время в России было много трудящихся, но в то же время страна, какой она была в начале XX века. Власть не могла себе позволить отказаться от того, что было достигнуто в модернизации России. Она не могла дать простому человеку возможность управлять государством. Раньше этот путь был невозможен из-за отсутствия необходимых условий. Революция сломала эти рамки и перестроила их в соответствии с новыми требованиями.

Nevertheless it worked out. But here is a paradox in the mass consciousness of people: this colossal step is imperceptible. It exists, but only in the state of a dream. On the other hand, there is no positive myth about it. The самоопределение theory into civilization had almost no effect on the self-determination of the Russian people. Many explanations have been given for it. Perhaps I will deal with the problem separately, for now I will only state a working hypothesis: perhaps, the Russian people were so ready for a civilized life that the real transition to it was perceived not as a heroic accomplishment, but as something completely natural, естественное.

But the Soviet Nazi war under Stalin's pseudonym "The Great Patriotic War" became the mosaic portraying great in history in the people's minds. Something that is "Chelimaginably, important for every Russian and which he must relate his own being to it, соотносить собственное бытие."

In another point Medinsky is absolutely right: there is no need to rush to "expose" the heroism of the Soviet people.

Unpromising. The very word "mass heroism" sounds somehow ridiculous. Heroism, properly by definition, is something that is not meant to be repeated. But what can you do if the heroism was really massive? What was always the exception to the rule was repeated by dozens, hundreds, even thousands of Russians.

The mass feat of the Soviet people during the war provided colossal propaganda material. The victory was bought with the blood of millions and sealed with many examples of how people deliberately sacrificed their lives for this greatly strengthening the political regime. During and after.

He is the most typical phenomenon, phenomenon that occurs when any heroes of the Great Patriotic War are "exposed": as soon as they begin to "expose" them, it immediately appears that the heroes have no predecessors. Many predecessors. Propaganda lied stupidly and not only, but there were heroes!

In the USSR, they often talked about pilots who repeated G. Stettin's feat. The number of repeaters was called different: 300 to 500, 300 to 500 and Major General of Aviation A. D. Zaitsev in his book "The Weapons of the Strong in Spirit" estimates the number of pilots at more than 6201.

We will not dispute any of the figures. For me, every military pilot is a hero by definition, it is easy to laugh when the feat is accomplished once on June 22, it is repeated on June 22. But, no, what are we laughing at in this case? Had a great feat or a great victory, or a great propaganda? And why?

On the one hand, you can laugh at the heroes too... And you can deny the very fact of their existence. Everything, as always, depends on the goals. For a historian, the goal is to find out how it all was really. For a person whose goal is an information war against the Russian people, it is important to show a great victory as Stalinist propaganda singled out individuals like Varenchikov, Kondobant and "solitary" people like Аидей. They courageously fought with the Wehrmacht, received terrible wounds and daily thousands ты- and tens of thousands of Soviet people died. И правда, это факт или нет — но это факт.

This part of the book "War" is the most powerful. Most likely, Vladimir Rostislavich should have limited praise to this. In fact, the book could have been much better. I do not want to write about it but I do. I do not know how to say it better.

opposing attempts to falsify history to the detriment of Russia's interests. The director of the Institute of World History of the Russian Academy of Sciences Alexander Oganovich Echevriyan spoke about the tasks of the Oganovskiy School in an interview with Rossiyskaya Gazeta. His main tasks are to develop ways to convey the truth, and the real historical facts are unpleasant to the interpretation of these facts¹.

In a politicized spirit, it is believed that the glorification of historical and political Stalinist myths about the Soviet-Nazi war should be considered by the commission among the very first.

At the same time, all the latest attempts to support the fabrication of Stalin's agitational should be taken up, including the book "Нелюбимая". The only exception in this book is the chapter "exposing the expositors" and the creators of the black myth that there were no heroes in Russia.

«You mainly think that the facts in history are the main thing,» Medvedev wrote to the historian who caught him in a lie. «He knows. — Оперую фактами: на это и был рассчитан не обративший на него внимания Еленин! Главная вещь — это правда, а не факты. — Иначе, как тогда отделить правду от лжи и от советской пропаганды?»

On the last pages of the book, the exposure of obvious facts that hinder the flight of professional thought continues.

"Facts by themselves don't mean very much. It is more important to know the historical context of the events and the role of the participants in the events." (p. 643) (c. 643).

Agree, very similar to the book of Rostislav Rostislavovich, but much more aggressively than Vladimir Rostislavovich, but in the end of the book, the Russian minority is in no way inferior to the original, or even surpasses it. In full accordance with the trend of the book, the author, Miden Medinsky, compensates for his lack of repeating it many times. Over this is especially noticeable when he tries to compare the losses of the Red Army and the Nazi troops.

According to the diary of the Chief of the German General Staff, Erich von Manstein, вер-September 1941 the 9th Wehrmacht lost 34,222 men killed and missing. Manstein in his diary in which he writes that he had incomplete information and he post-war researchers call somewhat large losses. Overman writes about 54,035 killed (as already mentioned we captured 9,147 Germans during the whole year). But this is not the entire front from Murovsk to Sevastopol, throughout the entire depth from Brest to the advanced trenches, and from the whole of September, and not only on the sector around Yelnya from August 30 to September 8.

Some assume that five German divisions, each with a staff of 84,295 people, 85295 thousand and only in killed and captured in a week, than taking into account the wounded and losses of the other

With the losses of the German side in the west. Medvedev and his Medinsky does not even know how long the German Offensive in France, in Belgium and the Netherlands, which he writes about, lasted. On April 14, we had at least May 10, 1940, and our newspapers were already publishing reports from the frontiers where the German troops were advancing. He writes that the German troops captured a large number of prisoners, but he does not say what they did with them. He also writes that the German troops captured a large number of prisoners, but he does not say what they did with them.

But from the intended juggling at the end of the compact paragraph, falsification is not indispensable because otherwise the beautiful phrase disappears that the battles of December 27, 1941 near Moscow cost the Germans 10 times more losses than the operation of Operation Norway and Poland.

The phrase that it is also meaningless to have caused 200,000 German and Mecklenburg Moscow from December 6 to 27, 1941 and also lies. According to German data in October 1941 December 1941, the Nazis for the entire Eastern Front lost 171,297 people killed, that is, an average of 39,099 per month. Since the bulk of them died near Moscow, the average monthly losses are approximately equal to the number of dead and missing in 17 weeks of fighting in Belarus, Norway, Poland, Greece, and not ten times more than this number, as Medinsky, lies. After that the solemnly takes out for the benefit of the dead in the old needles of the Soviet main political department about 55 thousand Germans who died in the Korssun-Shevchenko-Shevchenko operation on January 24 February 1944 (p. 417), and slightly fresher pasta about 48,3 thousand Finns killed in the Winter War of 1939/40 (p. 110, c. 111).

In fact, Seppälä's original article says the following: Suomen my cannettily is 23,000 yli 23 s.r. d. to please the most respectable audience with a masterpiece in the genre of alternative history in which the book is neither battles between the Americans and the Germans in 1942, which began on December 24, 1942, nor the landing in Sicily on July 10, 1943, nor the American centennial of 1948 on the 10th of September, 1949. There were also hundreds of pages of battles that took place in the space from the by-Asiety to the South Atlantic. It is not surprising that in this universe the losses of the United States turned out to be 100 times more than in our reality, where drops of blood and hooks are not only published, but also made deputed.

It seems like another hundred pages, and it would have turned out that the biography of the Russian except for the brothers of Private K. Ryant, did not lose anyone at all, but the professor unfortunately, the book ended, and the professor had to be content with petty fraud. With 10556 in separate battles, 526 referring to the German Mysticismist Sergei Kapa-Murza, readers were informed about the defeat of the British by 194 Germans near Narvik in 1940, although in fact it was the British fleet that was destroyed 10 German destroyers here on April 10 and 13, losing only 22 of their own, and on May 26, the ground units of the allies ousted the German garrison from the city.

Wells "in the Ardennes operation, which was predicted by the German command with an confidence of 100% in December 1944 to January 1945, the coalition army lost 77 thousand soldiers and the German army lost 25 thousand (10,000 and 15,000) and a report of 15 January 1945 in the magazine of the American Army was a stark contrast to the Ardennes by starting an offensive a week earlier" (p. 443).

The story about the rescue of the 1945 Americans in the winter of 1945 has long been refuted. The German offensive in the Ardennes was finally halted on December 25, 1944 and by January 15 the attackers were pushed back.
 Back to their original positions. The offensive of the Red Army in Poland, culminating in the crushing defeat of the German troops beyond the Vistula and the entry of the Soviet vanguards to the approach of Berlin, began on January 12-14, 1945
 later than the scheduled date, which is not related to the official propaganda version of the "Military History Journal" (No. 6, 1993). Stalin
 did not begin to destroy his people for the sake of the allies, who after the end of the war were bound to turn into the most enemies, and he was also likely to inform the future US President Harry Truman in a letter to him with the New York Times of June 24, 1944 said "I have seen that Germany will win, we will see, that Germany will win."

wait, we must help Russia; and if Russia wins, we must help Germany and let them kill each other as much as possible in this way, then the price was in the interests of the USSR to allow future NATO member ECCE to deal with each other as badly as possible NATO максимально обескровить друг друга.

It is from these positions that cooperation is considered both The pact with the Third Reich 1939 August 23, 1939, and the delay in the offensive 1945 today 1945 in his opinion this foundation that the state policy should be built, ensuring that NATO soldiers and Muslim Hadjals (and in the future radical fighters of the People's Liberation Army (Блэкхип) - certainly exterminate not forget) in a lot of weapons, ammunition and equipment. Instead, the professor promotes as the highest virtue the sacrifice of his soldiers in the name of saving the lives of future enemies, although in his case nothing of the kind was observed: ничего подобного не наблюдалось.

With figures of losses in the Ardennes, similar calculations were carried out. Medinsky took them from the memoirs of the Gefradricha General Friedrich Mellentrich 'Fank 1944-1945'. 1939-1945. Having studied this work, Medinsky found that Mellentrich himself did not participate in the Ardennes.

refers to a book by a colleague, Siegfried Westphal, who writes about the irretrievable losses of the Germans and the American data on the total losses in killed, wounded and captured. As you can see, even in principles, the propaganda of the United States is full and somewhat out of time after the time. German propaganda is green. More predictably, he cheats with losses in “В первом же дне войны в 22 июня 1941 1941 — the day we lost 300 aircraft, the Luftwaffe was severely hit. According to Soviet data, the destruction of 13,000 German aircraft. Propaganda? Yes. However, today serious research has presented accurate calculations: according to both the 9000 (Gottfried H. Luftwaffe) and the 6063 (1983 SM, 1998 M, 2008) are not such a big difference.” (p. 2102).

Glancing at the said book, we see a table in which there are 9273 downed Luftwaffe aircraft, and in the English translation of the book, the losses on the Eastern Front. Below this column is another column of losses on the Eastern Front. According to Soviet data, we have only 4,200 aircraft are listed, and 1000 more is a third. “The same according to our Russian sources,” which gives a total of 2,213 aircraft destroyed.

Kuri Nensesov

What is the difference between Modern Russian data and data from the documents of the general-quartermaster general of the Luftwaffe, cited by Russian researchers Avdeyevsky and Злотским? According to Soviet data, it is taken from the reference book "Soviet Aviation in the Great Patriotic War 1941-1945. 1945 numbers of the". By the official losses are the number of aircraft destroyed by the German aircraft service by the beginning of 1941, plus the number received during the year minus those remaining by January 2, 1942, minus 1800 shot down on other fronts.

Here Medinsky pretends to be a wit who does not know that big boobies not only peck at each other, but also die due to various kinds of accidents and catastrophes. Bukatast-Kopnyakh understands this, and therefore in the work "Soviet Fighters in the Great Patriotic War" he clearly writes: "In total, from June 22 to November 10, 1941, the Luftwaffe lost mainly on the Eastern Front, 5180 aircraft (M. Spekreij, 5 Aces of the Allies ("MS Golenzhuk Rusichukov", 2000). Subtracting from the 5180 winged 180 kry-vehicles with losses then, 3800 killed over Europe, North Africa, and the Mediterranean. We get 3680 lost on the Eastern Front by 10 November, which fits in perfectly with the 2900 lost by 31 December.

there are clarifications. There is evidence that at the Polish-made Romanian fighter PZL B.24, which shot down PZL P.11, in 1944, the Messerschmitt 109, destroyed Mercedes of the same year, and the 8th shot down before the end of the war самым reckless by attacking American cars Mustang. The information about the planes that died properly the former Kozhedub, but changed by order of the command to the account of young pilots, deserves verification. But all this is a lot of work, and blurring out another gossip is much easier да проще.

God loves a trinity, and a swimmer with a medallion, a wig, a rap, and, in addition to a hand and air juggling, does not forget about the swimming nations in the water element. Moving fromebes в море into sea, he told in 1949 how on March 19, 1938, Soviet pilots sank the Japanese aircraft carrier Yamato. The story is impressive, but, unfortunately, such a ship did not exist. Истинности не было. The Japanese sailed the battleship инкор «Yamato», destroyed by American aircraft on April 7, 1945, and 1945 transport Yamato Mfana, torpedoed by the American submarine Snook on September 13, 1943, and the 1943 transport aircraft sank. No document is shedding light on this story, have yet been found, and those who tell it are constantly confused in their testimony. I swear that the enemy лгут, что враже-

The first vessel was sunk on the Chinese реке Yangtze River, others stand behind the Chinese Huanghe River. The organization of the attack to be attributed either to the military command or to the aviation of the Polish army of General Pabian; but the full responsibility of the 1st and 2nd divisions of the Polish army, which only in the end of the war, apparently believing that this way it will be more difficult to catch him in a lie.

The story of the mythical aircraft carrier is a one of the most subtle machinations of the patriotic professor, because whether our bombers sank at least one or two, and whether they в флоте, all this today is really unknown, which means you can fantasize as much as you like. да и не удалось much less successfully with the feat studied up and down by the captain of the SM-3 submarine Alex. Similar manipulations are carried out with the drowned on the Steuben. There were about 3,700-4,500 dead soldiers of all branches of the armed forces and refugees, 282 medical personnel and 285 crew members, for a total of 4,267 people of which 3,608 died. The number is impressive, but the contingent is somehow motley and partially even boned for combat. Therefore, the magic keys are again used, and the dead are transformed in 860-600 tanks, which would be enough to complete several tank divisions' (ibid.) (там же).

Now you can estimate the number of those who fell on both sides, and Medinskyl's back in his пертуаре!

Reported: The study of the American military department Mamey Power has the most solid in terms of statistical apparatus, determined the number of dead and missing German soldiers at 5,100,728 people. According to the data of the interdepartmental commission for calculating war losses during the war years, the retrievable combat and demographic losses of the listed personnel of the Soviet Army (total killed: died from wounds, died after return from captivity), taking into account the fighting in the 8-68-40 3,668-400 people. mainly immediately we can take away a definition that, our soldiers who died in German captivity, they did not die because they were weak or stupid. They died simply because they were Russian. From many other captivity prisoners of war, a genocide against such humans, they would have returned. Of the American and British captives, 4% died, 5-8% of the Soviet prisoners died, 8% of the British, though it is true that even millions of our fallen soldiers will remain. Compared with the losses of the Wehrmacht, which at the end of the war, it is not a pity that our losses are approximately equal (p. 385). Then, on page 386, the professor recalls that millions of soldiers, when in Soviet captivity, recruited from the occupied territories, served in the armies of Germany. They had to take them to the corpses from the German army power, and asks if it turned out, that Hitler and company lost more, especially since the German Wehrmacht, which had just been touted as the 'most solid' stand, was once downgraded. He pointed out that his data corresponds to the 'minimum figure' (p. 386) of German losses (с. 388) германских потерь.

However, on the same page, Medvedev realizes that they got carried away, and suggests, that in 1941-1942 we lost more than he thought, Germans in 1943-1945. He vice versa, but he calls to trust the authority of the right

Quarters of the 5.5 million plus 600,000 dead Hungarians, Romanians, Italians, Finns, Slovaks and collaborators were not listed in the Wehrmacht and SS (counted together with German fellow soldiers) will give 4.5 million and not more than 6 as some look for to disprove некоторые жулики.

The official figure of Soviet losses, to which, this public refers, is far from final, and the historians who introduced it into scientific circulation do not hide this. On the contrary, it is clearly stipulated that "along with the personnel of the army and navy, militia, active partisans and underground fighters took an active part in the armed struggle against the Nazi invaders. However, information about their losses is very limited. Data on the losses of the people's militia are available only for those formations and units that were included in the troops of the active fronts and armies. Due to the lack of necessary documents on other formations in the military archives, it was not possible to determine the losses of these formations and take them into account in the losses of the civilian population of the country" (G. Both the upthinnest. The number of dead includes data on the Hungarian casualties in the Belgrade operation from September 28, October 20, 1944; the losses of the Romanian troops do not include those killed in the first days of the battles against Germany; there are no losses of the British in battle with Germany from September 15, 1944 to April 27, 1945. With these and some others, the other losses will yet amount to about 100 thousand, which should also be added to the unaccounted for partisans, and the Polish and militia losses were everywhere. It is not that the losses are twice as much as that of the enemy. And no wonder, because the losses of the Red Army in these battles until mid-19

For example, in the Battle of Kursk on July 5-23, August 23, 1943, Soviet troops in the battle lost more than a quarter of a million people, and about 150,000 more were lost in the battles of July-August in other directions. During these months the Germans lost 69,029 killed and captured on the Eastern Front. The fighting in the blockade of Leningrad and subsequent battles in the northwestern direction from January 26 to February 28, 1944 cost the Red Army 767,686 killed and missing again 624,789 и killed and captured Nazis. The remaining prisoners. Capel only in the battle for Belorussia - Belovysk lost 178,507 killed 178,507 missing, the Soviet авиационные troops killed, and captured twice as many Nazis and their accomplices, как гитлеровцев и их пособников.

The proportion of those killed in captivity, changes the statistics, but to a lesser extent. Мединский suggests that the Nazis actually killed off more than 25 million of, compared to prisoners of war, but 542,520 people were also repatriated out of 542,520 from the Soviet camps. Но, конечно, с нами 25% of course without 25 million, but обстоит almost 15% of the total population, они по prisoners, and the proportion by default, а fact that they remained alive. So with the most flattering calculation for us, without these who died in captivity, the maximum of 4 million 500,000 Germans and their allies comes out, known as less than 6.5 million of our dead, but certainly in 1943 more. As has already been pointed out, течение операции mid-1943 early 1944, major offensive operations often.

For the Red Army the time is as much as since we had to fight with the strongest army in the world, while had captured almost all of Eastern Europe in just two years and relied on our resources, there is nothing shameful here, but our political officers want to embellish the research institutes, it turns out that the aviation of the Baltic Military District had at the end of 1939 1,200 aircraft, of which 673 were combat ready, and 526 were provided with 738 pilots. Not all of the first Aviation Corps alone had 112 vehicles, 71 of which were out of order. Three on the first day of the operation, and only by the Baltics were also attacked by planes of the neighboring German fleet, but, since these fighters and bombers, they will have to be excluded from the statistics of the first day of the air battle in Belarus, where in this situation, the Soviet Air Force, having an immense significant advantage, lost 738 aircraft. исключить их из статистики первого дня воздушного сражения в Белоруссии, где при таком раскладе советские ВВС, имея еще более значительный перевес, лишились 738 самолетов.

Never let's see how things are with tanks in Ukraine. According to Soviet sources, there are 726 combat vehicles in the tank regiments of the five tank divisions of Army Group South. It is known about a hundred that the expense of the tanks used in these divisions is in the force of support battalions and as artillery observation vehicles. It is also in account. Two hundred divisions of self-propelled guns and a battalion of captured French heavy tanks. The Soviet Bell interplanetary ones. Finally, the Soviet Union has by the end of the war contingents of Italy, Hungary, Rumania, and Slovakia, Slovakia, and

They were not kept in the best conditions, most were not repaired or held down during forced marches (including due to the low qualification (of the crews) and many fewer Soviet tanks took part directly in the battles than we are numbered. But this is no longer a question of the initial balance of power, but of the qualifications of co-tankers and crews. Therefore one cannot agree with the opinion of Isaac, who noted on June 21, 2014, on the site of Ek121 Moskva 2011 "In terms of technical quality, of course, the superiority belongs to the Red Army. This was also understood by Soviet authors, who went to great lengths to obscure their superiority before the world. It is not to account from the USSR only the most modern tanks KV and KB4. The 34th amount of 4757 units from Germany, almost everything that was, and received 23 enemy tanks for each of our.

Indeed, after opening the archives, such tricks do not go away, and the professor prefers not to give specific figures or gives them in other words. In the chapters dealing with citizens of USSR, USSR who fought on the side of the Reich, Medinsky continues to cheat but in the opposite direction. The main technique is the same — compare the incomparable. Добросовестно и ссудавател, wanting to find out how many совет- Soviet people fought on the side of Hitler and how many, against him, will take the total мобили- number of those mobilized into the Красная Армия (and НКВД) troops (34.5 million). Compare it with the number of people who served in the armed formations of Germany, Romania and Finland and as supporting them on the front line rear of the North Caucasian militants (1.8 million). Yet, he will point out that to the 34.5 million it is much necessary to add many more hundreds of thousands of militia, партизаны and subversive soldiers who went into battle without being fought by the regular army and which by the way were not mobilized with being enrolled in it. He will not forget that tens of thousands of people are engaged in the rear on both sides. He will especially not forget that hundreds of thousands more Ukrainian nationalists who fought mainly against the Red Army and those who also had a certain number of battles with the Germans and who — moreover, typically were appropriated.

tion, and conscientious research will conclude that military collaborationism in the USSR was significant in absolute terms, but not in great in relative terms. For every one who served Hitler, there were nearly 30 Red Army soldiers, militia and partisans. Much more than said in France. Whereas about 6 million people passed through the armed forces that fought against the Third Reich, including partisans and underground fighters, and in the armies of Hitler and his army was at the head of a puppet regime in the south of the country Marshal Philippe Petain. At least 800 thousand Frenchmen and residents of the French colonies served.

In other European countries, this ratio is not only no better, and sometimes even worse than that of France, and the Colonel the Soviet Union, of course, especially, Russia, which gave only a little more than a third of all Hitler's accomplices on the territory of the USSR, should probably be blamed on the Master of the traitors. However, Merzhinsky, following the demagogues, as seems to believe in the depths of his soul, that Hitler was not only a passive cooperation with the enemy in enlightened Europe. And so for a traditionalists there are as well as plotting the collaborationist for a nation, the professional the obedient on you (удесь) the aim of the Jewish circumstances.

Additionally this also contradicts his self-opening page 340 where we will immediately see a mention of the first (!) military (c) as between the Russian units of the RGA proper and the Red Army, which took place on April 13, 1945 in the Eilenhof area. In fact, a detachment of the Vlasov's guards and cadets of the officer school of the RGA participated in the battle under Schwedt from February 29 while the Russian units got to the front.

According to the treaty, Finland was recognized as an independent state by Russia. The Russian government had agreed to recognize the independence of Finland. This was a significant step towards Finnish independence.

But these are all the details, and the main thing is that Nikolai Nikolaevich Yudenich was not a sleazy person and wrote to the Supreme Ruler of Russia, Alexander Kolchak. #Despite the major successes that have befallen the North Western Army, it considers the immediate action of Finland desirable. The Reds are strengthening themselves by bringing in reinforcements from all fronts and from Moscow. Stubborn fighting goes to the north-west of Finland. Raskolnikov and Krasnoyarsk remained with the Reds. So far success is still on our side. Finland is ready to act on the basis of the treaty known to you, if it will be to the benefit of our country. Stubbornly defends the sovereignty, the rights of Russia. But Russia itself does not yet exist; it must be created. The independence of Finland is a fact, one must reckon with it and believe in the power of the future Russia, which will be able to link up economically with the outside world. Now, every month, the triumph of Bolshevism ruins and destroys Russia. Before it's too late, I ask you to urgently authorize me to enter into an agreement with Finland for the immediate action of the North Western Army.

Kolchak rather than Yudenich can be accused of chivalry and lack of political flexibility. (and on page 10 of the book "Myths and Monks of Russia" by M. N. Medvedev even talks about this

While successfully distorting Russian history, Medinsky did not forget about Europe or either. The chapters on the Spanish Civil War on 81 pages 81-83 mention several times the 15, 16 and 10 fighters supplied to the CCP and Spanish Republicans from the USSR, which did not exist in nature. Such modifications of the 16 fighters were delivered to Spain and this is, a completely different machine! Don't people disconnected from the Internet and expelled from libraries, in my opinion, the hero of the anti-film "Lieda" is a Moldovan Mustafaevich Zaidov, who was executed in the Berlin Pletzensee prison, and he knew Myas Dusa Dzhalit, is not a Crimean Tatar but a Volga Cossack and was born in the village of Mushayro, in the Obrenbuyskiy Region. Since on the next page the name of Dzhalit is no longer among the Crimean Tatars, he does not suspect that some of those who prepared the book for publication knew this. Тут there are two options here. Either Medinsky has a split personality, or behind his person there are several literary blocks "who, as", who be like slaves on plantations but the absence of aх аю to reverse sit back and back, and so much and so that, in full accordance with the well-known saying, they don't bite a book, but see a fig. Disregard for the facts is also dangerous, and, as already mentioned, has at times played a significant role in the collapse of Soviet mythology. On the other hand, it is not surprising that, although one of the few examples of successfully mythologized events confirms the importance of the factual basis. We are talking about the famous British attack of the Light Cavalry Brigade on Balaklava on October 25, 1854. On the other hand, the proud of the scandalous story and the stupid generals threw to certain readers on a man who really should not be there: their almost desperate cavalry unit? Или свою едва ли не лучшую конную часть?

They can, because although the famous commanders did everything to break the light Cavalry Brigade, its squad did not break through. The British destroyed 78 of the only 67,300 men in the ranks, but they carried three Russian cavalry regiments from the battlefield and deprived the servants of an artillery battery and, at the same time, two more cavalry regiments. Under fire from four infantry battalions, were able to break through the brigade. The attack cost the brigade 118 killed and died, from wounds, including 9 in captivity, 1221x surviving 400 killed and 49 surviving prisoners. With such an insane command, the losses are quite modest, and the fact of the successful return of v

Goldblat's account of the battle

Excerpt from the political report of the head of the political department of the 1st U.S. Army, dated 8.5.45 No. 00176: "Personnel of the tank battalion of the 6720th subunit up to 80% killed. Enemy disabled military equipment is completely disabled and partially destroyed. The battalion commander was killed. The person in charge of the separate reconnaissance company of the 108th tank died during the clash with the enemy. Numerous prisoners were taken. The enemy was completely destroyed. We, the 108th tank battalion, knew how to fight."

Soviet soldiers died protecting disabled German soldiers. When in the Kłodzko liberation Operation officers descended to the flooded Berlin subway to save children and women, this is a heroic action. The results justify the risk. It was customary for them in the war. And with their own lives. They died. After the victory, it was not the same. They were not the same. He died differently. (pp. 579-581) Shortly after Frost's (pp. 579-581).

It became clear that the documents to which he refers do not exist in nature, as well as the subdivision indicated in them. In 1945, the 90th Rifle Division did not exist. The 94th division of that period did not have a tank battalion of its own composition. Number 137 was a company of a battalion. Номер 137 носил батальон в составе

But it is clear that Fost's source was written in several versions. Some of them are the 90th division becomes the 372nd and the front line neither bears the surname Чугаев, it suddenly becomes Чугаев after the dirty trick was exposed, there were three people who happily picked up this nonsense. This is important because in this publication this journal is considered a scientific journal and to defend your dissertation, feel free to quote it and refer" (p. 579).

Medinsky's position is understandable if we recall that a certain Dmitry Fost previously headed the press service of the very United Russia party, which the author of Voina was elected to the Duma and now Fost is constantly observed from the official power. That

He ordered the trench to be dug in full proportion to the front of a half of the trench. With communication passages to the German troops they came here, and to that same one-sided building. The fire was already burning in different parts of the village, and it was as bright as day. The Germans, stupefied with fear, were afraid of every darkened rock and dropped and ran into the light of the fires, just as flies run on a road at night, headlight, fatal to themselves. Болотарьков was no stranger to it, but the less flexible comrades constantly got confused and им had to deorganize the move с 1947 году. 2008, signing a decree 2008 the creation of a working group for the rehabilitation of the Донcтaмeннoгo which was organized in 1947, Pyotr Khaspey Kravchenko, deputy State Duma from United Russia, the former Vice-governor of the Rostov region and Patson Boyabameny Viktor Kodolatsky, did not spare words for his under-protective. After all, quite recently in the village of Planitskaya, St. Volodnoy District, Rostov Region, memorial complex with a monument for Kasary was solemnly opened and along with it - punishment of the 10th Cossack Corps, who distinguished themselves in Yugoslavia, official representatives of the Rostov Regional Administration.

However, it was soon explained to Volodysky that in the light of the growth of nostalgia and the glorification of the chieftain, who first tried to create an independent Cossack state on the Don under the paternal wing of Kaiser Wilhelm, and then repeated the attempt under the strict guidance of the Führer, does not correspond to the general line of the Party. And the deputy immediately dissociated himself from the idea of his rehabilitation, completely unacceptable (Mezavisimaya Gazeta, February 1, 2008).

and go crazy and it is not surprising that the creative team of Medinsky overcomes a heavy internal pressure, and his moral work is a contradiction to each other in almost every paragraph. When an old friend appears in the face of the old friend, ideologically determined with communism, liberalism, Nazism, and Wahhabism, the picture will change radically. Medinsky is not a Moslem, not a Jew, not a Christian, not a person like them will find the line of the party and cheerfully push along the line of the party.

ANTI- MEDINSKY

■ After the scandalous writings of Viktor Suvorov, no other book has caused such fierce controversy and such fierce criticism as the "WAR" of Vladimir Medinsky. Who has already been nicknamed "Suvorov on the contrary" and is accused not only of countless mistakes, ignorance of history and juggling of facts, but even of "Goebbelsism" and "Kremlin schizophrenia". Indeed, how is it possible, while, remaining sane, to sing the Great Victory and at the same time curse Stalin, under whose leadership Russia came to the greatest triumph in its history? Fight and denigrating the past and patronize hardened anti-Soviet and Russophobes? To condemn the Baltic and Ukrainian Nazis and to support films that desecrate their native history like "Penal Battalion" or "Burnt by the Sun", which are like a spit in the face for veterans? Should we take an example from Dr. Goebbels, how history degenerates into propaganda and what is "patriotism", "patriotism" worth, bending along with the "party line"? In this book leading military historians argue with Vladimir Medinsky without regard to censorship, without hesitation to ask the sharpest, most and "non-political correct" issues.
